Melanie Tomaski, Ludington High School teacher, presented to inform the Board of Commissioners of the Work-based Learning Program that has been established at Ludington area schools for juniors and seniors. This program would allow students to come into an employment field to work with and/or without pay to see if said position would be something they would like to do for their future job after high school. Questions were asked of Ms. Tomaski regarding employer responsibility, which is only to confirm and sign time cards. Ms. Tomaski left the meeting to return to school at 9:23 a.m.
