Welcome To the Mason County Local Emergency Planning Committee

Welcome and thank you for participating with the Mason County Local Emergency Planning Committee (L.E.P.C.). The partnerships and collaboration of various agencies and individuals is the backbone of effective emergency planning in Mason County. Your participation is greatly appreciated!

It is our hope that this welcome packet will help you understand the various programs and issues the LEPC oversees. If you have additional questions or would like further explanation, please don't hesitate to contact the LEPC Chairperson.

Why Does The LEPC Exist?

By law, the Michigan Citizen-Community Emergency Response Coordination Council has designated emergency planning districts in each County. The Superfund Amendment and Reauthorization Act (SARA) Title III is the primary governing law that dictate's the LEPC's actions. Additional information on SARA Title III has been included in this packet.

Who or What Agency Is A Member of the LEPC?

SARA Title III requires that the following groups be represented on the LEPC: elected officials, law enforcement, emergency management, fire services, public health, EMS, hospital, local environmental groups, transportation personnel, media, community groups, facilities subject to SARA requirements, organized labor, education, and agriculture. Additional representatives have been invited to sit on the LEPC to provide a well-rounded and whole community perspective for emergency plans. The full membership list has been included in this packet to increase the collaboration and communication amongst members.

All members are appointed to the LEPC by the Mason County Board of Commissioners as another requirement under SARA Title III. All appointed members are required to sign an oath of office through the Mason County Clerk's office.

How Often Does & Where Does The LEPC Meet?

The LEPC is required to meet a minimum of once a quarter. If there are additional pressing issues, a special meeting may be called. The LEPC typically meets at the Mason County Secondary EOC (Mason County Sheriff's Office) at 4 p.m. on the 3rd Tuesday of the following months: February, May, August, & December. A current schedule is posted at the Mason County Courthouse and the Mason County Web Page.

What Are The Main Responsibilities Of The LEPC?

- Review and provide oversight for all of the hazardous materials planning and reporting requirements under SARA Title III. Many of the reporting requirements are received by Mason-Oceana 911 Central Dispatch and then forwarded to the Emergency Management Coordinator. If necessary, the Emergency Management Coordinator then notifies additional committee members or reports any LEPC notifications at the next meeting.
- Oversee the County's Emergency Response Plan. The Mason County Emergency Management Office develops and maintains the Emergency Action Guidelines and presents them to the LEPC for review and comments.
- Oversee and participate in the County's Hazard Mitigation Plan revision. The County is required to maintain a Hazard Mitigation Plan per the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). This plan allows entities within Mason County to apply for Hazard Mitigation funding to prevent or increase resilience to negative impacts from disasters. The LEPC is used as the revision oversight committee to ensure a broad list of potential projects included in the plan. The Hazard Mitigation Plan is required to be revised every 5 years.

Occasionally, there are other emergency planning or response coordination activities brought before the LEPC. The overall purpose of the LEPC is to increase the emergency planning, response, and preparedness of Mason County.

Again, welcome and thank you for your interest and participation in the LEPC,

Mason County Local Emergency Planning Committee Chairperson

Overview of SARA Title III

The Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act

The Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act (SARA) Title III was passed in response to concerns regarding the environmental and safety hazards posed by the storage and handling of toxic chemicals. These concerns were triggered by the 1984 disaster in Bhopal, India, in which thousands of people suffered death or serious injury due to a release of methyl isocyanate gas from a chemical plant. To reduce the likelihood of such a disaster in the United States, Congress imposed requirements on both states and regulated facilities.

SARA Title III establishes requirements for federal, state, and local governments, Indian tribes, and industry regarding emergency planning and “Community Right-to-Know” reporting on hazardous and toxic chemicals. The Community Right-to-Know provisions help increase the public’s knowledge and access to information on chemicals at individual facilities, their uses, and releases into the environment.

What Does SARA Title III Cover:

SARA Title III has four major provisions:

- Emergency Planning (Sections 302 & 303)
- Emergency Release Notification (Section 304)
- Hazardous Chemical Inventory (Sections 311 & 312)
- Toxic Chemical Release Inventory (Section 313)

Information gleaned from these four requirements helps states and communities develop a broad perspective of chemical hazards for the entire community as well as for individual facilities. The chemicals covered by each of the sections are different as are the quantities that trigger reporting.

Emergency Planning (Sections 302 & 303):

Section 302 facilities store or use extremely hazardous substances (EHS) in excess of the Threshold Planning Quantity (TPQ). The full list of these substances is maintained in the List of Lists. Section 303 requires an off-site plan be developed for each Section 302 site. Off-site emergency response plans contain information that community officials can use at the time of a chemical accident and are developed by the LEPC for the protection of the community. The Mason County LEPC utilizes funding from the Hazardous Materials Emergency Planning (HMEP) Grant to complete and update selected plans each year.

Emergency Release Notification (Section 304):

Under Section 304, a facility must report all releases of a chemical over the designated reportable quantity. Every hazardous substance has a reportable quantity (RQ) set in the regulations and listed in the List of Lists. Facilities must notify the LEPC by dialing 9-1-1 and must follow up with a written notification.

Hazardous Chemical Inventory (Sections 311 & 312):

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) regulations, employers must maintain a material safety data sheet (MSDS) for any hazardous chemicals stored or used in the work place. Section 311 requires facilities that have MSDSs for chemicals held above certain quantities to submit either copies of the MSDSs or a list of these hazardous chemicals to the State, LEPC, and the local fire department as soon as they exceed the threshold. Additionally, facilities subject to Section 311 must submit an annual Tier Two report for each chemical stored or used on site. Section 312 Tier Two reports must be submitted by March 1st for the chemicals stored or used on site for the preceding year to the State, LEPC, and local fire department.

Toxic Chemical Release Inventory (Section 313):

Section 313, commonly referred to as the Toxic Chemical Release Inventory (TRI), requires certain facilities to annually report toxic chemical releases and waste management activities to the EPA and the state by July 1st. The TRI reporting requirement applies to facilities within certain sectors and to specific toxic chemicals.

Overview of the H.M.E.P. Grant

The Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) has been designated to administer the Hazardous Materials Emergency Preparedness (HMEP) Grant Planning Grant Program. Grants are made available to Local Emergency Planning Committees (LEPCs) for the purpose of enhancing hazardous material response planning, traditionally the SARA Title III Off-Site Emergency Response Plans.

Mason County currently has 17 sites that require off site emergency response plans that need plan development or annual plan updating. The HMEP $1,000 continuation grant is awarded for enhancing their planning efforts to LEPC's that meet the following criteria:

- Be legally appointed by the State Emergency Response Commission (SERC)
- Have an appointed chairperson, information coordinator, and emergency management coordinator.
- Have an establish schedule that meets at least quarterly.
- Provide a 20% in-kind match in funding. (Staff positions and/or programs supported by Federal funds cannot be used as match for this grant.)

The $1,000 continuation grant can be spent on the following items:

- Training for LEPC members.
- Exercises involving HazMat Transportation and/or SARA Title III Sites.
- Commodity Flow Studies.
- Technical staff to support planning (Cannot be supported by other federal grants).
- LEPC Plan Development Support Costs (i.e. contracted services).
- Assessment of Local Response Capabilities.

The continuation grant cannot be spent on computer hardware or software.

The LEPC also receives a nominal reimbursement for each plan or update submitted which changes each grant year depending on funding and participation in the HMEP grant program.

Overview of the County Emergency Action Guidelines

Mason County is required to maintain an Emergency Operations Plan, which coordinates the response to natural or man-made disasters which affect Mason County. The Mason County Emergency Management Office is the primary agency responsible for maintaining a valid, comprehensive plan. However, numerous agencies are included in keeping their functional annex of the plan up to date.

The plan has been developed under the Emergency Action Guidelines (EAGs) model, which is a checklist format to increase the efficiency of Emergency Operations Center (EOC) officials. The Emergency Action Guidelines (EAGs) address all-hazards and allows for the response organization to adapt to the specific disaster hazard. The execution of the plan is organized under an emergency support function model; this model aligns with the National Response Framework and organizes all disaster functions under 17 annexes.

The three main components to the plan consist of:

- The Basic Plan: This portion of the plan provides a basic description of the County's response procedures and considerations.
- The Emergency Operations Center (EOC) Guide: This portion of the plan contains the operating procedures and information related to running the EOC during a disaster response.
- The Functional Annexes: The format of the plan is based on a functional model. By focusing on emergency support functions, EOC representatives are able direct their attention to a single function during the disaster response rather than having their attention divided. Each annex has a specific scope of focus and the necessary agencies assigned to address that focus.

Most of the LEPC individual/agency members also have a role in the EAGs.

Overview of the Hazard Mitigation Plan

Mason County maintains a Hazard Mitigation Plan to help future development decisions consider hazard vulnerability reduction as standard business practice. The plan was created to protect the health, safety, and economic interest of residents by reducing the impacts of natural and technological hazards through hazard mitigation planning, awareness, and implementation. Hazard mitigation is any action taken to permanently eliminate or reduce the long-term risk to human life and property from natural and technological hazards.

This plan serves as the foundation for hazard mitigation activities within the county. Implementation of the plan's recommendations will reduce injuries, loss of life, and destruction of property due to disasters. The plan provides a path toward continuous, proactive reduction of vulnerability to the most frequent hazards that result in repetitive and often severe social, economic, and physical damage. The ideal end-state is total integration of hazard mitigation activities, programs, capabilities and actions into normal, day-to-day governmental functions and management practices.

The LEPC serves as the review and oversight committee for the hazard mitigation during its update every five years. The diverse membership of the LEPC makes it an ideal organization to ensure a varied assortment of hazard mitigation strategies is included into the plan. Additionally, many of the LEPC member agencies undertake hazard mitigation activities during the course of their daily operations. Even if hazard mitigation strategies are not pursued, the plan can provide a wealth of additional information for future planning activities. The plan includes community profile descriptions related to hazard risk, which are useful when applying for grants. The hazard analysis can assist response agencies with identifying long-term training, exercising, and equipment purchases. The plan also includes an assortment of maps.

To help individuals and agencies identify and pursue hazard mitigation strategies, the plan identifies approximately 90 potential projects. These projects align with the four hazard mitigation goals of promote growth in a sustainable, hazard-free manner; protect existing and new properties; protect public health and safety; and increase public understanding, support, and participation in hazard mitigation.
